

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Will Ivy City Race? the All-Absorbing Question Now.

Engoman Says If Necessary He'll Admit the Public Free.

Hankins Will Not Take To Tamblin at $18,000.

Will Ivy City race during the winter or not? The Benning meeting is drawing to a close, and the above question is worrying the sports now in Washington. The committee which was selected to pass upon the advisability of granting the Ivy City track a license is said to have reported adversely. That case, no doubt the license will be refused.

Mr. Engoman, however, has had lawyers look up the matter, and he claims that a license is necessary only when an admission fee is charged. If necessary, therefore, he will throw open the Ivy City gates and admit the public free. There is a chance, also, that the Benning people may race on. Their grand stand has been inclosed in glass and all preparations made for a winter campaign. The meeting has been a paying one, and the managers are anxious to continue it.

George Hankins, the horseman, arrived in Memphis yesterday from Chicago, accompanied by a man named John A. Bover, who at once proceeded to make an examination of Ivy Tamblin, now in the city. There is a rumor that Mr. Hankins, who, when questioned, said that the report was such as to decide him not to buy the mare at the price asked, $18,000. Further inquiry developed that there was something about the mare's left knee and hip which Mr. Hankins did not like, and when questioned he refused to say more than that he did not feel warranted in paying so much as $18,000 for the animal.

This reported unsuccessfulness of Ivy Tamblin created great surprise. It was believed that she was perfectly sound and without an ailment.

There were twenty-five books on at Washington yesterday. The pencils were kept busy, too.

A San Francisco despatch says: "Morello and Charman will run in the 'Ranchero del Paso' stake event at the Blood Horse Association meeting next Thursday. Forty-eight two-year-olds are entered in the stake. Mr. Morello, president of the Association, has announced his early retirement from the turf."

The Pittsburg Driving Park was sold at Sheriff's sale today for $320,000. The sale was on a purchase mortgage of $200,000 held by the property. A check which a writ to sell was issued a few days ago. The property was divided into 100 shares, of which Charles Lockhart, of the Standard Oil Company, held 52, the other 48 shares being held by 100 others. The Association, Mr. Lockhart wanted the ground out into building lots, while the other shareholders wished the park continued as a racing course.

The sudden collapse of the Point Breeze meeting sent the Gloucester horsemen to Washington post haste.

"Snapper" Garrison's work with the flag yesterday was on the whole very good. He gave Johnny half a dozen lengths the best of the start, and Johnny kept his advantage to the end.

Five favorites won at Benning yesterday. As a rule the choices win on a heavy track.

The Point Breeze meeting has issued the following card: "A false impression has been created by the report that the Philadelphia Hunt Club. It was never our intention to give any other races than those advertised for Friday and Saturday. So far as the betting goes, we cared very little about the other races. The Association, Mr. Lockhart wanted the ground out into building lots, while the other shareholders wished the park continued as a racing course."

Billy Roller arrived at Washington with fifteen horses yesterday. This looks as though Roller might receive pretty good assurances that the meeting would go on for some time.

Mask ran a very fair race yesterday. He is about due to win a race.

Some valuable trotters were burned at Washington yesterday. A false impression has been created by the report that the Philadelphia Hunt Club. It was never our intention to give any other races than those advertised for Friday and Saturday. So far as the betting goes, we cared very little about the other races. The Association, Mr. Lockhart wanted the ground out into building lots, while the other shareholders wished the park continued as a racing course."

TARIFF TO COME UP MONDAY.

Disposition to Press the Bill to Speedy Passage in the House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Committee on Ways and Means decided this morning to take up the tariff bill Monday, giving the Republican members the intervening time to consider the new bill and comparisons.

The gathering of the members of Congress has offered an opportunity to get at the real sentiment of the Democratic members on the bill.

There is a chance, also, that the Benning people may race on. Their grand stand has been inclosed in glass and all preparations made for a winter campaign. The meeting has been a paying one, and the managers are anxious to continue it.

George Hankins, the horseman, arrived in Memphis yesterday from Chicago, accompanied by a man named John A. Bover, who at once proceeded to make an examination of Ivy Tamblin, now in the city. There is a rumor that Mr. Hankins, who, when questioned, said that the report was such as to decide him not to buy the mare at the price asked, $18,000. Further inquiry developed that there was something about the mare's left knee and hip which Mr. Hankins did not like, and when questioned he refused to say more than that he did not feel warranted in paying so much as $18,000 for the animal.

This reported unsuccessfulness of Ivy Tamblin created great surprise. It was believed that she was perfectly sound and without an ailment.

The sudden collapse of the Point Breeze meeting sent the Gloucester horsemen to Washington post haste.

"Snapper" Garrison's work with the flag yesterday was on the whole very good. He gave Johnny half a dozen lengths the best of the start, and Johnny kept his advantage to the end.

Five favorites won at Benning yesterday. As a rule the choices win on a heavy track.

The Point Breeze meeting has issued the following card: "A false impression has been created by the report that the Philadelphia Hunt Club. It was never our intention to give any other races than those advertised for Friday and Saturday. So far as the betting goes, we cared very little about the other races. The Association, Mr. Lockhart wanted the ground out into building lots, while the other shareholders wished the park continued as a racing course."

Billy Roller arrived at Washington with fifteen horses yesterday. This looks as though Roller might receive pretty good assurances that the meeting would go on for some time.

Mask ran a very fair race yesterday. He is about due to win a race.

Some valuable trotters were burned at Washington yesterday. A false impression has been created by the report that the Philadelphia Hunt Club. It was never our intention to give any other races than those advertised for Friday and Saturday. So far as the betting goes, we cared very little about the other races. The Association, Mr. Lockhart wanted the ground out into building lots, while the other shareholders wished the park continued as a racing course."

This reported unsuccessfulness of Ivy Tamblin created great surprise. It was believed that she was perfectly sound and without an ailment.

The sudden collapse of the Point Breeze meeting sent the Gloucester horsemen to Washington post haste.

"Snapper" Garrison's work with the flag yesterday was on the whole very good. He gave Johnny half a dozen lengths the best of the start, and Johnny kept his advantage to the end.

Five favorites won at Benning yesterday. As a rule the choices win on a heavy track.

The Point Breeze meeting has issued the following card: "A false impression has been created by the report that the Philadelphia Hunt Club. It was never our intention to give any other races than those advertised for Friday and Saturday. So far as the betting goes, we cared very little about the other races. The Association, Mr. Lockhart wanted the ground out into building lots, while the other shareholders wished the park continued as a racing course."

RUMORS THAT A RECEIVER WOULD BE APPOINTED.

The Entire Market Was Made Weak and Feverish.

London was the great factor in changing this morning. There were rumors that the Atchison was about to go into the hands of a receiver, and the stock sold at 20-1/2, equivalent to 19-3/4 here. The foreign houses had liberal selling orders, and the stock after opening at 20-1/2, against 21-1/4 last night, dropped to 18-3/4.

The rumors about a receivership were denied. It was rumored that default would be made on the interest on each, and had met with refusal from the bankers to whom application had been made.

Atchison declined 2-3/4 to 18-3/4, General Electric 1-1/2 to 17-1/2, Union Pacific 1-1/2 to 21-1/2, Burlington 1-1/2 to 21-1/2, Louisville & Nashville 5-8 to 21-1/4, Manhattan 3-4 to 17-1/2, Missouri Pacific 3-4 to 16-1/2, and Wabash preferred 3-4 to 16-1/2.

Actual business in exchange was at 100-1/2, and the market for gold was at 100-1/2, and 4-1/4 to 4-3/4 for sight. The supply of commercial was exceedingly small, and the market for foreign exchange was at 100-1/2, and 4-1/4 to 4-3/4 for sight.

The stock market did not recover from the blow it received from the rumors of a receivership. The market was comparatively small, and the bulls succeeded in sustaining prices for a certain time, but the market was not able to hold out for long.

In regard to the Atchison matter, no definite information has been received. President Belmont is in London, and the Atchison matter is being handled by the British government.

The Senate, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The House, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The Senate, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The House, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The Senate, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The House, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The Senate, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The House, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The Senate, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The House, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The Senate, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

The House, after the morning hour, took up the bill to amend the act of March 3, 1879, relating to the preservation of public order in Hawaii or the protection of lives and property of American citizens or the recognition or support of any government there.

A JUROR REBUKED.

Headway and 131 West Thirtieth Street.

Charles O. Hayden, trustee, 67 West Thirtieth Street, and 131 West Thirtieth Street, were summoned to appear before the jury in the case of the Atchison stock.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

The jury, after a long deliberation, returned a verdict in favor of the Atchison stock. The jury found that the Atchison stock was not in the hands of a receiver, and that the stock was not to be sold.

MME. MELBA'S LUCIA.

The Australian Prima Donna at the Metropolitan Opera-House.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

The cable had not frequent and glowing accounts of Mme. Melba's performance at the Metropolitan Opera-House last night. As large as it might have been, was fully prepared to hear a vocal wonder.

HAD HER LOVER ARRESTED.

But Pauline's Charge of Grand Larceny Was Dismissed.

She Gave Bernard $800 and He Lost It at Cards.

Pauline Cohen, a pretty cigarette-maker, twenty years old, of 107 Livingston street, made a charge of grand larceny against her lover, Bernard Wolfson, of 159 Forsyth street, in the Essex Market Police Court today.

In July they were engaged to be married, and Pauline handed over to Bernard $800 to start him in the saloon business. Bernard, however, loved gambling, and he is said to have lost every cent at cards.

When the money had vanished Bernard would meet his sweetheart on her way from work and relieve her of her wages.

A cold day two weeks ago Wolfson called upon his sweetheart minus his overcoat, which she had purchased for him a few days before for $25.

"I took it to the tailor to have the buttons fastened," he said in answer to her query.

Pauline caught him in a lie. While searching his pockets for candy she felt a pawn ticket for the overcoat. She then upbraided him for trying to deceive her.

"I'm a gambler," said Bernard. "If you want I'll bring you my share." "I believe you will," shouted the girl, out of my sight. I hate you."

Bernard would, quailing, wanted back her $800, but he refused to return it, giving as a reason that he had not a cent. He then handed her the pawn ticket, which she took to the pawnshop.

Justice Voorhis held that Bernard committed no larceny, to give him that money," said the court, "but he committed a crime in taking it. I don't see how I can help it. He must recover the money. The defendant is discharged."

MADE HER BROOKLYN DEBUT. Mrs. Anson Had Previously Appeared in Flatbush Courts.

Mrs. Jane Ann Anson, a middle-aged woman, resides on President street, near Rochester avenue, Brooklyn. Across the street resides Mrs. Rose Baird, whose sister is in Flatbush.

Several times the two women have had rows, and each time they have taken place in Flatbush. Both women have, as a result, been forced to appear before a justice in that town, and have been severely dealt with.

Yesterday the two women had another row, and as usual it was in Flatbush. Mrs. Anson was arrested by the police, and she was taken to the police station.

The police had three fuses attached, and contained matter which caused a small explosion. The police were called to the scene, and they were taken to the police station.

The Evening Standard adds to the excitement following the discovery in London of a bomb, that the police have found a number of bombs in a small cave in the West End of London.

CHLORAL KILLED PROF. TYNDALL. Coroner's Inquest Shows that the Scientist Took an Overdose.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The inquest held upon the remains of Prof. Tyndall has resulted in the verdict that the Professor died from the effects of an overdose of chloral.

Prof. Tyndall had for some time been a sufferer from insomnia. The presumption is that he used the drug as a remedy.

KNOCKED DOWN AFTER THE BALL IS SHEEHAN DOWN?

Artist Kitter Alleges He Was Drugged and Robbed.

Met Convivial Companions After a Germania Assembly Dance.

Frank J. Kitter, an artist, of 40 Warren street, was a complainant in the Tombs Police Court this morning. The prisoners were David Russmore, alias Peter Bennett, twenty-six years old, and Antonio Santos, alias "Silver," thirty-eight years old. Both are ex-convicts.

Kitter alleged that they gave him a knock-out drops and robbed him of a gold watch and chain, a diamond stud and several dollars in money.

Late on the night of Nov. 13, says Kitter, he was standing at the corner of Houston street and the Bowery, waiting for a car. He had been attending a ball at the Germania Assembly Rooms. While he was waiting he was approached by Russmore and Santos, who prevailed on him to drink with them. They visited various saloons, winding up at one at 55 Bowery, where, it is claimed, the robbery occurred.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

Kitter complained to the police, and Adam Laidlaw, bartender of the place, says he saw Russmore going through Kitter's clothes, and he put Russmore into the street. Kitter says that Santos followed him. Kitter says that after robbing him the thieves put him in a dazed condition on an up bound car.

IS SHEEHAN DOWN?

Not Croker, but the Lieutenant-Governor Out with Hill.

Recast of the Democratic State Machine Certain.

A Tammany Leader Given What Was Said to Be Facts.

Mayor Gilroy was interviewed this morning by an "Evening World" reporter regarding the reported split between Richard Croker and Senator Hill. Senator Hill is said to have dissolved the partnership heretofore existing between himself, Croker, Sheehan, Murphy and McLaughlin, and set up Senator Hill as his partner.

Senator Hill would join the Anti-Snappers if encouragement was offered to him. Mayor Gilroy smiled when he read that "It is difficult," said he, "to disassociate the name of David Bennett from the machine. I have not seen Senator Hill for six months. I have not seen Senator Murphy since the election. If encouragement was offered to him, I should say the report was not true."

Tammany men generally consider the split between Croker and Hill as a disaster. "What purports to be the true story of what happened between Croker and Hill," says a Tammany leader, "is that Senator Hill for six months. I have not seen Senator Murphy since the election. If encouragement was offered to him, I should say the report was not true."

Tammany men generally consider the split between Croker and Hill as a disaster. "What purports to be the true story of what happened between Croker and Hill," says a Tammany leader, "is that Senator Hill for six months. I have not seen Senator Murphy since the election. If encouragement was offered to him, I should say the report was not true."

Tammany men generally consider the split between Croker and Hill as a disaster. "What purports to be the true story of what happened between Croker and Hill," says a Tammany leader, "is that Senator Hill for six months. I have not seen Senator Murphy since the election. If encouragement was offered to him, I should say the report was not true."

Tammany men generally consider the split between Croker and Hill as a disaster. "What purports to be the true story of what happened between Croker and Hill," says a Tammany leader, "is that Senator Hill for six months. I have not seen Senator Murphy since the election. If encouragement was offered to him, I should say the report was not true."

Tammany men generally consider the split between Croker and Hill as a disaster. "What purports to be the true story of what happened between Croker and Hill," says a Tammany leader, "is that Senator Hill for six months. I have not seen Senator Murphy since the election. If encouragement was offered to him, I should say the report was not true."

Tammany men generally consider the split between Croker and Hill as a disaster. "What purports to be the true story of what happened